The CPAC aims to provide an inclusive, fair, enriching experience to all who participate. Those who chose to negatively affect the CPAC experience for others will be held accountable, including disqualification, removal of titles, or being barred from participation in future events.

The CPAC Code of Conduct is based upon the Universal Code of Conduct to Prevent and Address Maltreatment in Sport (UCCMS) created by the Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport and Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada.

All participants agree:

- All participants shall expect to participate, compete, work, volunteer and interact in an environment free from maltreatment.
- Maltreatment or prohibited behaviours, including but not limited to bullying, harassment, physical or psychological threatening behaviour will not be tolerated.
- All participants recognize that maltreatment can occur regardless of race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or disability. Also recognizing that those from marginalized groups have increased vulnerability.

- To conduct themselves professionally, respectfully, and with the spirit of good sportsmanship at all times prior to, during, and following all CPAC events. This pertains to both in-person and virtual platforms, including social media.
- To conduct themselves with the spirit of good sportsmanship showing respect and dignity to event organizers, CPAC organizers, fellow competitors, judges, and event staff/volunteers.

- To respect any venue-specific or government-directed rules and regulations which may supersede those of the CPAC.

1.5 COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Sport inclusion is a fundamental principle of the Canadian Pole and Aerial Championship. The CPAC organizers and competition hosts are fully committed to providing a safe, supportive and respectful space, regardless of any differences based on race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or disability.

The CPAC Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion is based upon the Creating Inclusive Environment for Trans Participants in Canadian Sport created by the Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport.

The Competition Regulations developed for participation in the CPAC guided by the principles that people of all identities should have equal opportunities to participate and strive for excellence at all levels, free of discrimination or harassment, to create LGBTQIA+ inclusive athletic environments.

1.5.1 Gender Inclusive Language

We commit to making every effort to learn and use the chosen name and pronouns of our competitors, volunteers, staff, and community members. We recognize that failing to respect an individual's gender identity or expression by using incorrect name(s) or incorrect chosen pronouns is discriminatory and fails to uphold the principles of the CPAC.

1.5.2 Safeguarding an Individual's Right to Privacy and Confidentiality

The CPAC organizers and competition hosts recognize the rights to privacy of all our participants. We will only ask for information about identified gender identity when it is critical to the services provided, in a manner that is inclusive, and for which there are no consequences for abstaining. We will respect and safeguard the privacy of any competitors, volunteers, staff, and community members.

1.5.3 Use of Facilities

The CPAC is committed to providing safe access to use of toilets, changing areas and other facilities. We will seek to do so in a discreet, confidential, and sensitive manner in collaboration with our competition hosts.

1.5.4 Eligibility for Participation in the CPAC

Participants in the CPAC are able to register and compete in the category in which they identify. All categories are non-gendered apart from Men's Pole Sport. All identifications of gender identity or expression by our athletes are believed to be made in good faith and do not require further disclosure or documentation.

1.5.5 Eligibility for Participation in External Competitions

Champions of select CPAC divisions may receive invitations to compete with partner competitions, or choose to pursue competitions with other organizations as the “Canadian Pole and Aerial Champion”. The CPAC will keep informed of related eligibility policies in other organizations which may impact our competitors and champions. We will support our athletes, at their request, in regards to eligibility requirements.

1.5.6 Resolving Diversity and Inclusion Issues

Any community member or participant of the CPAC who witnesses or feels they have experienced discrimination, bullying, harassment or victimization is strongly encouraged to act; by contacting, or seeking assistance from, the CPAC director at info@canadianpoleandaerialchampionship.ca.

1.6 PARA-ATHLETES

Para-athletes shall be provided accommodations on an as-needed, and individual basis.

Para-athletes are defined as competitors with a permanent mental or physical disability, which provides a noted disadvantage in sport. Competitors who wish to request Para-Athlete accommodations are to email competitors@canadianpoleandaerialchampionship.ca, providing medical documentation for review by the CPAC director. All information will remain confidential.

Para-athletes will be scored as per the continuum of their selected category, with exemptions as necessitated based on accommodations requested by the individual and agreed upon in advance of the competition. For example:

- A competitor with severe autism may be exempted from Audience Connection.
- A competitor in a wheelchair may be exempted from Balance in Choreography
- A competitor with physical disability may be exempt from Lines and Extension

Para-athletes medalists will be awarded separately from the standard division/level. For example: A para-athlete competing in Pole Sport – Amateur will be scheduled alongside all Pole Sport – Amateur competitors. The para-athlete will be scored following the Pole Sport – Amateur continuum, however judges will be directed to disregard any exempted sections for both scoring and feedback. The para-athlete medalists will be awarded separately from the athletes scored on all continuums.

1.7 DISQUALIFICATION and DEDUCTION

1.7.1 Disqualification During the Competition

Non-compliance with regulations may lead to disqualification during the competition.

The following will result in immediate disqualification during the competition:

- Major nonadherence to costume rules and major wardrobe malfunctions. Major nonadherence includes wearing a costume or adornment which is specifically not allowed. Major wardrobe malfunctions include any exposure, accidental or intended, of private body parts.
- Conversing with the audience or judges at any time during their performance.
- Non-approved props, if deemed a safety hazard.
- If the event host or head judge finds a competitor is unable to safely perform for any reason whatsoever.
- If the event host or head judge finds a performance to include explicit content (as defined in Movement and Themes).

1.7.2 Deductions and Fines

- Any restricted moves performed will result in a 5 point deduction per move from each judge; See DIVISIONS AND LEVELS - Section 2 – Move Caps.
- Nonadherence to costume rules will result in a 10 point deduction from your overall score from the head judge.
- Nonadherence to music rules will result in a 10 point deduction from your overall score from the head judge.
- Props that were not pre-approved (for required divisions) will result in a 10 point deduction from your overall score from the head judge.
- Nonadherence to movement and themes rules will result in either a 25 point deduction from your overall score or disqualification, depending on the severity, as deemed by the head judge.
- There will be a fine of $250 plus disqualification if you are found to be sandbagging. Sandbagging is considered when the competitor is deemed to be registered at a division/level deemed significantly less than their actual level of competitive ability. The CPAC acknowledges that competitors may start training higher level skills prior to refining their technique such that they are ready to perform or compete at such a level. The CPAC will evaluate sandbagging with demonstration that the competitor teaches, performs or competes at a significantly higher level than the division of level in which they are registered to compete. A competitor may submit a sandbagging concern by email in advance of competition or following competition using the Formal Audit Protocol.

1.7.3 Sanctions and Appeals Process

The CPAC Sanctions and Appeals Process is based upon the sanctions outlined in the CPAC Regulations, the Guide to the Development of an Appeal Policy created by the Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport and the Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada.

The full Sanctions and Appeals Process and Official Appeal Request Form can be found at:

3. Upload your music file to your Account on the CPAC web Store. Email competitors@canadianpoleandaerialchampionship.ca in the event that you have technical difficulties or require multiple submissions (such as for multiple performances).

TECHNICAL DIFFICULTIES IN MUSIC PLAY DURING ROUTINE

* When a competitor's music doesn't play fully or skips due to technical error, a competitor may:

1. Finish their routine without music (possibly affecting musicality marks)
2. Ask the music to be cued again and start routine from the beginning right away
3. Let the next competitor go, then re-run routine from the beginning
4. Wait until the end of the line up in their division and re-run routine from the beginning

* In all cases except #1, judges are required to disregard ALL previous scores and score the competitor from the beginning of their second run as if they first run never happened.

3.4 MOVEMENTS AND THEMES

The CPAC aims to provide an inclusive, fair, enriching experience to all who participate. CPAC's Divisions provide varying opportunities for movement exploration, suitable to various styles and audiences. Sport divisions, which are open to novice and junior competitors, are intended to focus on technical skills linked with artistry and dance, and therefore movement and themes should be appropriate for all audiences. Artistic divisions (Pole Art, After Hours) are intended to focus on artistry, expression, dance movement, and encourage the emphasis of provocative, sexy movement qualities and exploration of mature themes.

The CPAC Movements and Themes rules are based upon the recognized standardized terminology, ratings and classifications from the Motion Picture Association of Canada.

CPAC will judge performers' movements and themes based on the following guidelines:

- All Audiences: Movements and themes which are deemed appropriate for all audiences include sexually suggestive movement, which is defined as movements that imply sensuality, rather than show sexual activity.
 - Themes appropriate for all audience are permitted in Sport divisions. These may include limited/brief violence or implied/non-depicted death in an overall mild tone.
 - Movement qualities appropriate for all audiences are permitted in Sport divisions. These movements may include sensual movement such as: hip rolls, body waves, shimmies, body touch, etc.
- Mature Themes: Mature themes include violence, coarse language, and sexual content, such as containing sexual language, references, innuendo, and/or scenes of implied or simulated sexual activity. Mature themes may not be deemed appropriate for all audiences and therefore are not permitted in Sport divisions and may be permitted in Artistic divisions.
 - Themes which include mature references may be appropriate for Artistic divisions. These themes may include references to or depictions of, violence, racism, religious matters, death, or controversial social issues.
 - Movement qualities which include sexual references or innuendo may be appropriate for Artistic divisions. These movements may include twerking, grinds, and touching, spanking, caressing, or grabbing your body curves.

- NOT permitted: Mature themes which include coarse/offensive language, crude, harsh, rude or offensive portrayals, scenes of implied or simulated sexual activity are NOT appropriate for Artistic divisions and may result in a deduction by the head judge.
- Explicit Content: Explicit content includes horror and gory scenes, explicit/brutal/graphic violence and sexually explicit content, such as demonstrated sexual activity that is explicit and unsimulated, such as nudity or genital contact.
 - Explicit Content is not permitted and will result in disqualification by the head judge.

All props must be submitted by the posted deadlines. When submitting your props, you must write a brief description of all your props, including the full names of any human props.

Human props are allowed. Human props may touch you, but not the apparatus. Judging will be based on your skills and abilities only, and not the skills and abilities of the human prop. Human props must be 18 years of age or older. They are required to sign a waiver of liability before participating in the show.

Props for Novice or Junior levels must be family-friendly and appropriate for all audiences.

If you use props without approval, you are subject to disqualification or point deduction.

The prop placement must only take a maximum of 30 seconds and prop removal must only take a maximum of 30 seconds.

No potentially hazardous props are permitted (i.e. if a substance is left on the floor, pole, or performance area, or could potentially harm spectators or other competitors). Props depicting illegal drug usage will not be allowed. Any usage of substances should not be the focal point of a routine and as this is a subjective rule, any prop should be used with purpose.

Some examples of props that will not be permitted are:

3.5.1 Prop Pre-Approval Process

- PROPS MUST BE PRE-APPROVED for all Pole Sport and Aerial Sport divisions.
- Props do not require approval in Artistic divisions but must meet regulations. If a competitor in an Artistic division is unsure, they may submit their prop for pre-approval.
- To submit a prop for pre-approval, a video must be submitted by the deadline provided prior to the competition.
- A video no longer than 30 seconds must be made describing how the prop will be used with a short demonstration of its use.
- Once received and reviewed, the competitor will receive confirmation via email that the prop is approved or that it will need to be changed/replaced and a new deadline will be sent.
- Upon approval, the information will also be sent to the competition host. At this time the prop cannot defer from its original use or purpose, or the competitor can be subject to disqualification.
- Email prop demonstration videos to: competitors@canadianpoleandaerialchampionship.ca
- Late fines for prop descriptions are a cumulative $10 per week late or fraction thereof, and an additional $50 if submitted less than 48 hours in advance of the start of the competition.

3.6 GRIP AIDS

The grip aid regulations are applied to competitors competing on standardized apparatus in live events.

- Grip aids can only be used on the competitors' body and may NOT be applied to any apparatus.

3.7.1 Crash Mats

The use of a crash mat is not required for divisions using the pole as an apparatus.

The use of a crash mat is required for aerial divisions, with the exception of Aerial Specialty.

- Adult and Masters divisions: Provided mat will be a tumbling mat, a minimum of 4'x8' mat with 2" thickness

- Competitors in Aerial Specialty may request the removal of the mat where it is deemed a safety hazard due to the nature of their apparatus. Request must be submitted at the time of Apparatus Specification.

3.7.2 Uncontrolled Falls and Injuries

If the event host or head judge finds a competitor is unable to safely perform for any reason whatsoever, the CPAC reserves the right to stop the performance and disqualify the competitor at their discretion.

For all falls from an aerial position (no point of contact with the floor):

- Regardless of landing, the performance will be terminated, and the competitor disqualified.
- Competitors are advised not to continue with their routine, to remain stationary, and allow an assessment by onsite first aid trained personnel. Staff shall call for local emergency response if necessary.
